

EVERYDAY INCLUSION 2022

They Are Not Too Young: Raising Young Children in a Diverse World

August 12, 2022 12-1 PM

Tamara Clark, Interim Co-Director of UO's Vivian Olum Child Development Center, will share information about the anti-bias approach to development, birth through 5 years, and facilitate conversation about our role as parents.

This virtual session will be offered as part of the Finance and Administration portfolio's Everyday Inclusion 2022 initiative. The primary audience is portfolio staff but parents and community members associated with Olum, the Moss Street Children's Center, and the Co-op Family Center are welcome to attend.

Registration available through MyTrack